McChrystal Group

Leadership Advisory & Organizational Effectiveness

SECTION 1

Organization Snapshot

Legal Name	City of Los Angeles Police Department
Headquarters	100 W. 1st Street, Los Angeles, CA 90012
Founded	1869
Ownership	Municipal government agency under the City of Los Angeles; governed by the Board of Police Commissioners (civilian oversight appointed by the Mayor)
Footprint	473 square miles across 21 geographic patrol divisions (4 bureaus: Central, South, Valley, West), serving ~4 million residents. Third-largest municipal police department in the US

SECTION 1b

Company Overview

The Los Angeles Police Department is the third-largest municipal police force in the United States, with approximately 8,738 sworn officers and 2,650 civilians operating on a $3.3 billion annual budget. Under new Chief Jim McDonnell (sworn in November 2024), LAPD is navigating historic staffing lows, a RAND Corporation organizational assessment with 50+ reform recommendations, an $800M city budget crisis, and preparation for the 2026 FIFA World Cup and 2028 Summer Olympics. The department simultaneously faces community trust challenges following officer-involved shootings and the January 2025 Palisades/Eaton wildfires that required massive cross-agency coordination.

SECTION 2

Financial Health & Growth Stage

Understanding Los Angeles Police Department's financial position and trajectory is critical to framing any engagement conversation.

- Budget: ~$3.3B for FY 2025-2026, largest line item in City of LA General Fund (~40% of General Fund, ~47% of discretionary funds)
- Fiscal pressures: City faces ~$800M budget shortfall from lower-than-projected revenues, wildfire recovery costs, and volatile stock markets. Mayor Bass initially proposed eliminating 409 civilian positions
- Resolution: Police Protective League agreed to overtime-as-PTO deal, averting civilian layoffs
- Supplemental funding: $625M congressional allocation for 2026 World Cup security; $1B for 2028 Olympics security
- Recruitment: Plans 13 academy classes producing 585 new recruits in FY 2025-2026 - target of 45 officers/month that LAPD has not consistently reached

SECTION 3

Leadership Team Profiles

The following contacts are recommended as primary outreach targets - champion-level leaders who feel the organizational pain daily and can sponsor McChrystal internally.

Emada Tingirides - Assistant Chief, Director of Office of Operations [PRIORITY TARGET]

Designed the Community Safety Partnership program with civil rights attorney Connie Rice. M.A.S. Criminology UC Irvine. Public Official of the Year (Governing Magazine 2015)

Outreach rationale: Leads operational transformation of community policing model across all 21 divisions. Most natural champion for McChrystal's operating model work - her CSP program is philosophically identical to Team of Teams

Additional leadership team members relevant to the engagement:

Jim McDonnell - Chief of Police

29-year LAPD veteran; former Long Beach Police Chief and LA County Sheriff. Boston native, B.A. Criminal Justice from St. Anselm College

Michael Rimkunas - Deputy Chief

Promoted in McDonnell's first major leadership shake-up

Scott Harrelson - Deputy Chief

Promoted in McDonnell's first major leadership shake-up

German Hurtado - Deputy Chief, Central Bureau

Newly promoted in 2025 reorganization

SECTION 4

Organizational Culture & Structure

Culture and structure are often where McChrystal Group finds the deepest leverage. The following signals indicate how Los Angeles Police Department operates today and where friction exists.

Organizational Structure

Highly hierarchical paramilitary command structure. 4 geographic bureaus (Central, South, Valley, West) plus specialized bureaus (Detective, Counter-Terrorism, Training, Community Safety Partnership). Multiple layers between patrol officers and Chief's office

Culture Signals

RAND findings: Morale is low department-wide - driven by staffing shortfalls, cumbersome complaint/discipline system, disconnected leadership. Glassdoor: 3.4/5 overall, 2.6/5 culture.

Key issues: Discipline system seen as punitive not developmental; suburban agencies competing for talent with better quality of life; community trust varies dramatically by division (Watts/South LA deeply distrusting vs. West LA stronger). Post-wildfire strain further stretched depleted force.

Transformation programs: Community Safety Partnership (CSP) operating at 10 sites; RAND-driven reorganization pending; World Cup/Olympics preparation driving cross-agency exercises

SECTION 5

Recent News & Trigger Events

The following developments from the past 18 months create urgency and provide natural conversation entry points for engaging Los Angeles Police Department.

1. 2024-11-08 - Chief Jim McDonnell sworn in as 59th Chief of Police

First new permanent chief in years - leadership change with reform mandate from Mayor Bass. Prime engagement window

2. 2025-01-15 - Palisades/Eaton wildfires devastate Los Angeles

Exposed cross-functional coordination challenges and resource allocation gaps under extreme stress - direct Team of Teams application

3. 2025-03-01 - RAND Corporation delivers organizational assessment with 50+ reform proposals

External validation of organizational dysfunction McChrystal can address - RAND diagnoses, McChrystal implements operating model solutions

4. 2025-04-01 - City budget crisis threatens 409 LAPD civilian layoffs amid $800M shortfall

Resource-constrained transformation requires efficiency-through-alignment - doing more with less through better coordination

5. 2025-06-01 - McDonnell executes first major leadership shake-up: elevates Tingirides, Rimkunas, Harrelson

New leadership team needs shared operating model and common language for transformation

6. 2025-07-01 - Staffing projected to hit 30-year low (~8,620 by mid-2026)

Forces rethinking of how work gets done with fewer people - cross-functional collaboration, civilian-sworn integration, empowered execution

SECTION 6

McChrystal Fit Assessment

Active trigger events (new chief, RAND assessment, budget crisis, wildfire aftermath), clear entry through multi-agency event coordination, federal event security funding ($625M), low competitive barrier, and deadline-driven urgency (World Cup June 2026 is 14 months away)

Primary Problem

LAPD must simultaneously transform its internal operating model (RAND recommendations), rebuild a depleted workforce, maintain public safety during a fiscal crisis, and prepare for the most complex security operations in department history (World Cup 2026, Olympics 2028) - all under a new chief with a new command team

Best McChrystal Capability Fit

Team of Teams operating model for cross-functional and multi-agency coordination; leadership development for newly constituted command staff; organizational design to simplify hierarchical structure; crisis leadership for the 2026-2028 event corridor

Likely Objections to Engagement

We're a government agency - we can't afford boutique consulting
RAND already gave us the playbook
We've been through reform cycles before
Political sensitivity around outside influence on policing

Competitive Advisory Landscape

RAND Corporation (engaged for assessment - diagnoses, doesn't implement)
Police Executive Research Forum (PERF - thought leadership, not sustained engagement)
No sustained organizational transformation firm engaged

SECTION 7

Conversation Entry Points

These questions are designed for a Senior Partner's first conversation. Each opens a thread that naturally leads to McChrystal Group's capabilities without a direct pitch.

1. Chief McDonnell, you've got 50 RAND recommendations, a new command team, and the World Cup 14 months out - how are you sequencing the transformation so you don't have to choose between reform and readiness?

Position as 'the implementation partner RAND can't be' - RAND diagnosed, McChrystal operationalizes

2. You built CSP from scratch with Connie Rice - that relationship-based model is essentially Team of Teams at the division level. As you scale that philosophy across all 21 divisions with a depleted force, what's the biggest structural barrier?

For AC Tingirides - connect CSP philosophy to McChrystal's operating model

3. The World Cup and Olympics require LAPD to lead coordination across 20+ agencies with different cultures and chains of command. How are you building the shared consciousness to operate as a single network?

Use JSOC multi-agency analogy - McChrystal literally solved this problem in Iraq

Recommended Meeting Framing

Position as 'the implementation partner that turns RAND's diagnosis into operational reality.' Frame around event corridor deadline: 'You don't have time for multi-year transformation - you need an operating model that delivers results by June 2026.'

SECTION 8

Brand Insights & Market Positioning

Brand strategy reveals organizational priorities and coordination challenges. The following analysis connects Los Angeles Police Department's market positioning to potential McChrystal engagement opportunities.

Brand value: One of the most recognized law enforcement brands globally. Brand recognition is both asset and liability - expectations sky-high while trust varies dramatically by community.

Brand identity evolution: Under McDonnell, repositioning from enforcement-first toward community partnership model anchored by CSP. But the brand promise of 'community safety through partnership' runs ahead of operational reality - CSP at 10 sites while 21 divisions still operate traditionally.

Brand threats: Suburban agencies competing for talent; high-profile use-of-force incidents can undo years of trust-building; the Jeremy Flores shooting deepened distrust in Boyle Heights.

Major brand investments: 2026 World Cup and 2028 Olympics are the most significant brand moments in LAPD history - performance will define LAPD's brand for a generation.

McChrystal connection: LAPD's brand gap - promising community partnership at scale while delivering it at only 10 sites - is fundamentally an organizational design problem requiring Team of Teams operating model.

SECTION 9

Deep McChrystal Group Fit Analysis

This is the strategic case for pursuing Los Angeles Police Department. It synthesizes findings from all previous sections into a comprehensive engagement thesis with specific fit dimensions, expected outcomes, stakeholder mapping, and a phased pursuit strategy.

9a. Fit Dimensions

Fit Dimension 1: Multi-Agency Event Coordination (World Cup 2026 / Olympics 2028) LAPD must lead the largest domestic security operations in its history, coordinating with 20+ agencies (USSS, FBI, LASD, CHP, National Guard). The challenge is creating shared consciousness across agencies with different cultures, chains of command, and communication systems. McChrystal is uniquely positioned - this is literally JSOC's origin challenge. Timing: World Cup is June 2026 - 14 months away.

Fit Dimension 2: RAND Implementation Gap RAND delivered 50+ recommendations but is a think tank, not an implementation partner. The gap between "50 recommendations" and "transformed organization" is exactly where McChrystal operates. No competitor is positioned for this specific implementation role.

Fit Dimension 3: New Leadership Team Alignment McDonnell reorganized his entire command staff in 2025. This new team needs a shared operating framework and common language. McChrystal's methodology is designed for newly constituted teams that must perform immediately under pressure.

Fit Dimension 4: Doing More With Less At 30-year staffing lows and frozen budget, LAPD cannot hire its way out.

The department needs to rethink how work is distributed and how sworn-civilian roles integrate. McChrystal's empowered execution model is designed for resource-constrained environments.

Fit Dimension 5: Community Trust Through Organizational Change CSP works at 10 sites but hasn't scaled because the surrounding structure still operates hierarchically. Scaling requires decentralized authority, shared information, and empowered local leaders.

9b. Cumulative Case

Thesis: LAPD faces a once-in-a-generation convergence - new chief, RAND mandate, fiscal crisis, staffing emergency, and a hard deadline (World Cup 2026) - demanding exactly the rapid organizational transformation McChrystal was built to deliver.

Signal chain: New Chief (Nov 2024) -> RAND 50+ recommendations (Mar 2025) -> Budget crisis (Apr 2025) -> Leadership shake-up (Mid 2025) -> 30-year staffing low -> World Cup deadline (Jun 2026) -> Olympics (2028)

Revenue potential: Phase 1 (World Cup readiness): $750K-$1.2M | Phase 2 (org transformation): $1M-$2M | Phase 3 (Olympics + culture): $1.5M-$3M | Total: $3.25M-$6.2M over 3 years

9c. Enterprise Issues

1. Hierarchical Paralysis - Multiple layers between street and decision-making authority. RAND identified organizational complexity as a barrier to agility
2. Discipline System as Morale Destroyer - Cumbersome, punitive complaints process; supervisors lack authority for nondisciplinary cases
3. Sworn-Civilian Integration Failure - When civilian positions cut, sworn backfill technical roles (DNA analysis, DUI processing), pulling them off patrol
4. Division-Level Isolation - 21 divisions as semi-autonomous fiefdoms with limited shared consciousness
5. Recruitment Pipeline Breakdown - Target 45/month, actual 21-30; year-long hiring timelines
6. Multi-Agency Coordination Deficit - Current exercises test tactical response but not sustained shared consciousness
7. Community Trust Varies 10x Across Divisions - No systematic approach to measuring or improving trust
8. Post-Wildfire Operational Debt - January 2025 response consumed enormous resources during peak depletion

9d. Expected Outcomes

1. World Cup-Ready Multi-Agency Operating Model - Reduce cross-agency decision time by 50-70%. Deliverable by April 2026
2. RAND Implementation Roadmap - 15-20 of 50+ recommendations implemented within 12 months
3. Command Team Alignment - Reduce chief-to-division info lag from days to hours; 40%+ alignment improvement
4. Division-Level Empowerment - Pilot in 3 divisions, 30%+ improvement in division-level decision response time
5. Civilian-Sworn Integration - Free 50-100 sworn officers from backfill duties within 12 months
6. Discipline System Redesign - 40% reduction in formal complaint escalations
7. Scalable CSP Model - Deploy to 5 additional divisions within 18 months

9f. Opportunity Thesis

Why Now: New Chief -> RAND Assessment -> Budget Crisis -> Wildfire Aftermath -> Leadership Reorganization -> 30-Year Staffing Low -> World Cup Hard Deadline (Jun 2026) -> Olympics (2028). Each signal amplifies the others.

Why McChrystal, Not McKinsey: RAND did the diagnostic. McKinsey/Deloitte optimize processes. LAPD's problem is how a paramilitary hierarchy operates in a VUCA environment. McChrystal uniquely combines: military credibility with police command, multi-agency coordination from JSOC, proven Team of Teams operating model, and implementation capability.

Phased Engagement:

- Phase 1 (6 months, $750K-$1.2M): World Cup readiness - multi-agency shared consciousness model. Hard deadline creates urgency, federal dollars fund it
- Phase 2 (12 months, $1M-$2M): RAND implementation, command team alignment, division empowerment
- Phase 3 (18 months, $1.5M-$3M): Olympics preparation, culture embedding across 21 divisions

Multi-Threaded Pursuit:

- Thread 1: AC Tingirides via CSP/Team of Teams alignment - policing conferences or reform networks
- Thread 2: Counter-Terrorism/Special Ops via World Cup/Olympics coordination - McChrystal's JSOC proof point
- Thread 3: LA Police Foundation (commissioned RAND study) as institutional warm introduction to Chief McDonnell
